

Research Colloquium on Global Legal History

Wintersemester 2019/2020

Date	Topic
10.10.2019 16:30-18:00	Justine Collins collins@rg.mpg.de Max Planck Institute for European Legal History The origins and legacies of the British West Indian Slave Legislation: When periphery becomes the centre
12.11.2019 14:30-16:00	Raquel Sirotti sirotti@rg.mpg.de Max Planck Institute for European Legal History A famous crime, perhaps the most notorious in the whole country": The assassination attempt against Brazilian President Prudente de Morais in 1897
10.12.2019 14:30-16:00	Yu Wang wang@rg.mpg.de Max Planck Institute for European Legal History Seeing Others and Seeing Me: Comparative interpretations of Law throughout legal changes in early 20th century China
15.01.2020 16:30-18:00	Gilberto Guerra guerra@rg.mpg.de Max Planck Institute for European Legal History Not Quite Brothers in Arms: Indigenous legal status during the Dutch expansion to the State of Maranhão, 1642
11.02.2020 14:30-16:00	Maysa Espíndola espindola@rg.mpg.de Max Planck Institute for European Legal History Between Roças and Palhotas : Colonial exploitation in Portuguese Africa, 1850-1930
04.03.2020 14:30-16:00	TBC